Lehman Wins Easily Over GOP's Dulles

Truman Hails Result As Endorsement For His "Fair Deal"

By The Associated Press
Smashing Democratic victories in New York's U. S. senate race and in widespread city elections set President Truman and the party high command chortling today over the outlook for 1950.

Republicans didn't find much to cheer about in yesterday's off-year elections. They held on to the New Jersey governorship they already had and tossed out a Democratic mayor here and there.

But they took a mauling in the day's feature political bout, in New York state. Democrat Herbert H. Lehman easily knocked Republican John Foster Dulles out of the U. S. senate seat Dulles has held down since last July.

There was one, big, clear-cut issue: Lehman campaigned hard for the Truman home-front program; Dulles campaigned hard against it.

Truman Pleased

The President himself, gleefully calling out returns at a dinner in his honor by the Women's Democratic club of Washington, interpreted the result as a vote of confidence in his "Fair Deal."

Mr. Truman said it would have "a very decided effect on the election in 1950" when control of congress is at stake. So did the Democratic national chairman, William M. Boyle, Jr.

Furthermore, Boyle said, Lehman's victory "was only the high light of a national trend" that won out again over Republican "generalities" and "scare attacks." Part of that "trend" was a repeat win for Democratic

UMW Leader Sets Work On Contract Basis

Miners Will Work Until Nov. 30 As Public Convenience

CHICAGO, Nov. 9—(AP)—John L. Lewis today ordered his striking soft coal miners back to work.

A resolution was adopted by the 200 man policy committee of the strikers to go back to work until midnight, Nov. 30, under the terms of the UMW's contract which expired July 1, 1949.

Act of Good Faith

Lewis said: "This is done as an act of good faith, designed to contribute to public convenience."

Lewis told reporters the 380,000 bituminous workers east of the Mississippi river who have been idle 51 days were ordered back into the pits immediately.

Lewis also said: "The United Mine Workers will again make another contribution of major magnitude to enhance the remote possibility of agreement being reached."

Lewis said that between now and Nov. 30 officers and scale representatives of the union "will participate in such wage conferences as may eventuate in conformity with recognized policy." He urged that private householders and public institutions "provide themselves an interim with necessary coal supplies to tide them over a further suspension period in the event that the contemptuous arrogance of the coal operators remains undiminished."

Prepared Statement

This announcement was made by Lewis in a prepared statement. He told reporters beforehand that he would not enlarge on his statement.

The statement said that Lewis' policy committee "concurs and gives its full approval to the policies and procedures followed by its accredited representatives" during the strike.

The statement asserted "the committee regrets with all other Americans the delay in the execution of a new agreement for the industry and deplors such public inconvenience that has resulted therefrom."

Lewis charged that the coal operators "have been arrogant and brutal in the withholding of their assent," he said the committee "emphasizes the fact that the associated coal operators have continuously declined throughout all conferences, in whatever area to concede the right of the mine workers to have an honorable and adequate wage contract."

SEEK FIRE-SETTERS

WARREN, Nov. 9—A $500 reward was offered today for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for setting fire to several stores of the McAllister Farm markets. The reward was posted by Temple McAllister, president of the firm.

OFFER COAL

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9—Mayor Thomas A. Burke said yesterday the city's neediest families would be offered coal by an unidentified industrial concern if present coal supplies are exhausted because of the miners' strike. The city had only a nine-day supply on hand, Burke said.

ADMIT BURGLARIES

WARREN, Nov. 9—Police Chief W. E. Johnson said school burglaries in Trumbull, Portage, Geauga and Ashtabula counties were admitted yesterday by three Warren youths, all under 20 years old.

Beloit Youth Injured In Truck Accident

James Cox, 14, of Seacrest road, Beloit, suffered possible serious injuries when the truck he was driving left the road and smashed into two trees at 10:15 Tuesday night.

The youth lost control of the ton and a half truck about two and a half miles north of Salem on the Goshen road. It collided with two maple trees on the property of Thomas Roessler and was demolished.

The vehicle belongs to Albert Gfeller of R. D. 1, Beloit.

Cox was brought to Salem City hospital, where he is in a semi-conscious state. He has a possible skull fracture, lacerations about the face and right leg.

The state highway patrol indicated that Cox was driving at too great a speed for road conditions.

Approval Given Special Issues

Salem School Levy, County Issues Pass

Bond issues and levies found the support of most Salem and Columbiana county voters yesterday.

Salem school district voters overwhelmingly approved the three-mill operating levy. Requiring only a simple majority to pass, the vote was: Yes 2593; No 1329.

The tuberculosis care levy was again sanctioned, the county vote being 18,665 to 6,196. The local vote: 2829 to 831.

Also carried was the child welfare levy, the vote being 16,760 to 6,828 against. The local vote: 2542 to 1011.

Salem voters gave favorable votes to the colored oleo proposition, the office-type ballot and the probate judge program.

In Columbiana county village, however, returns showed that a two-mill school levy had lost, 585 to 572.

Leetonia Exempted school district approved a one-mill levy, while Lisbon's $405,000 school building bond issue passed as did a $10,000 bond issue in Goshen-Union district at Damascus.

Salineville okayed a $60,000 waterworks improvement bond issue.

Oleo, Office Type Ballot Okayed In Ohio

Probate Judge Issue Losing; City Races Varied In Result

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9—Colored oleo and the office type ballot rolled up impressive leads early today. Both looked like cinches to capture approval of Ohio voters.

A proposal to permit more than one probate judge to a county, however, faced an uphill fight.

As lookers in the state's polling places dug deeper into the votes cast in yesterday's off year state election, indications that voters had turned out in surprising numbers mounted by the hour.

Best index of the total vote—the total vote cast for the controversial oleo proposal—showed 1,519,718 ballots cast with only 76 per cent of the polling places reporting.

Sweeney Prediction Low

Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney had predicted an unusually light vote, not to exceed 1,800,000.

Most of the interest and the biggest margin went to colored oleo, which has been banned by state law for the last 62 years.

Here is a tabulation of the votes on the three proposals offered all Ohio voters with 7,466 of 9,721 polling places reporting:

Colored Oleo — For 897,590; against 622,128.

Probate Judge — For 606,184; against 666,992.

Office type ballot—For 707,542; against 559,964.

The lead given the office type ballot, however, still may not mean that Ohio actually will get a new type voting form. A Supreme court decision may be necessary to determine if a plurality is sufficient to approve.

Eighty Ohio cities elected mayors yesterday. Only one such race appeared to have state-wide

Culler Re-elected In Washingtonville

Mayor Lloyd A. Culler of Washingtonville was re-elected to office Tuesday, defeating his opponent Edward C. Longbottom by a vote of 242 to 132. A total of 378 ballots was cast.

Members of council elected were: John Volpe, 233 votes; Leslie Tingle, 202; Lloyd Berg, 199; William Dalrymple, 182; Homer Heintzleman, 170; and George Boston, 168.

Defeated council members were Stephen McClung, 101; Albert Richey, 119; Charles Hinchliffe, 152; and Charles Grindle, 150.

Margaret Spears was re-elected town clerk with 316 votes, being unopposed. John King, also unopposed, was elected treasurer with 292 votes.

Voting on special issues in Washingtonville ran as follows: Oleomargarine—Yes, 148; no, 168.

Office type ballot—Yes, 114; No, 103.

Probate judge—Yes, 103; No, 101.

Child welfare levy—Yes 154; No, 49.

Tuberculosis levy—Yes, 173; No, 46.

Elected to the board of public affairs were Fred Davis who received 163 votes; Robert Boston, 155; and Earl Kelly, 142.

Sen. Clyde M. Reed Dies In Kansas Home

PARSONS, Kas., Nov. 9—(AP)—Republican Senator Clyde M. Reed who fashioned three successful careers—politics, newspaper publishing and the railway mail service—died last night.

The 78-year-old senator from Kansas apparently succumbed to a heart attack. He collapsed while descending a stairs in his home. His body was found at the foot of the stairs by his wife, Minnie, and a maid.

He just left the hospital last week after suffering from influenza.

Reed was elected to the United States senate in 1938 and re-elected in 1944. His term was scheduled to expire Jan. 3, 1951.

Write-Ins Win In Green Township

GREENFORD, Nov. 8—Two write-in candidates won Green township trustees offices in the balloting here Tuesday.

Garth Coy polled 232 votes and Emmett Baer received 199 to occupy the posts, to which only two were to be elected.

Three county school board candidates elected were Robert Manchester with 335 votes; John C. Eshliman, 258; and Harold F. Rickert, 209. There were seven running for the office.

Those chosen to the Green township board of education were Roy A. Brown with 308 votes; Roy J. Zimmerman, 267; Chauncey H. Albright, Jr., 240.

Candidates named to the board of education for the Leetonia exempted school district were E. Walter Berg with eight votes; Wilbur Stratton, seven; Charles Stelts, five; R. W. Ripley, five; Betty Held, four; and D. F. Grapp, three.

Raymond Rhodes, only candidate for justice of the peace, polled 187 votes. Of two constables to be elected, Howard Feicht received 337 votes and Paul L. Fletcher received 225 to defeat a write-in candidate.

In the balloting for special issues, colored margarine was defeated here 334 to 102, the adding of a probate judge lost 198 to 159 and the office-type ballot passed 251 to 125. The property tax levy for the Leetonia school district got eight votes to three against it.

A total of 237 votes was cast in Greenford.

Removed Mayor Wins Council Position

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 9—(AP)—Charles Sedore, Sr., mayor at nearby Halls Corners in Trumbull county when notorious Jungle Inn, gambling resort, was the community's principal business, was elected a member of council in a write-in election Tuesday.

Sedore was recently removed as mayor by Gov. Frank J. Lausche. E. L. Barber, with 22 votes, was elected mayor by a three-vote margin over James Payton.

School Bonds At Lisbon Approved

LISBON, Nov. 9—The $405,000 bond issue for an overall school building program was passed here Tuesday by almost a three-to-one margin, the vote being 1,245 to 453 against.

Other issues approved here included the office-type ballot, 1,179 to 587; the T. B. levy, 1,614 to 541; and the children's welfare levy, 1,384 to 618. The colored oleo issue was spurned 1,168 to 985.

Kenneth Hiscox was re-elected Lisbon's mayor with a total of 1,114 votes cast in his favor out of a possible 2,382 persons who voted. All Republicans were elected to village offices. Hiscox was unopposed.

Ross Armstrong was chosen clerk, 1,149, and Helen Blackburn won the treasurer's office with 1,114.

Council members elected were Robert Cameron 1,091; Homer McPherson, 1,039; Charles Lederle, 1,042; James Roush, 962; Alfred Smith, 986; Wilbur Warren, 1,043.

Those elected to the board of public affairs were Frank Henry, 1,036; Robert Morris, 1,019; Ralph Rose, 922.

Elyer Hinchliffe polled 1,088 votes and Ray D. Thomson 640 from among six candidates to fill the two posts for Center Township trustees. Hinchliffe and Thomson will succeed Galen Bowman and Raymond Blair.

Felix Butch received 1,449 votes in his favor and Hugh Ramsey 815 as the two candidates were re-elected to the two justice of the peace offices. William Hiscox won the constable's office with 963 votes as he ran unopposed.

Board of education incumbent, O. C. Caldwell, was defeated as he polled only 679 votes to 1,229 for William Ashton; 1,231 for Robert Wilkins; and 1,083 for Chillick. Three board candidates were to be elected on the ballot.

Democrat McGaffick Polls 1791 Votes, Gives Republican Torrid Race; GOP Dominates

Harry M. Vincent, Republican president of council, was elected Salem's mayor in Tuesday's heavy balloting, defeating his Democratic opponent, Howard McGaffick in a nip-and-tuck affair.

Vincent on Jan. 1 will succeed Mayor R. R. Johnson, whom he beat at the primaries.

The heavy vote, 3,951, slowed tabulations and at times McGaffick held the edge over Vincent. The latter pulled to the front and finally won out by a 317-vote margin. The final count was: Vincent 2108; McGaffick 1791.

The Republicans had a good day. They won all municipal races but two, losing council contests to Incumbent Councilman-at-large Fred Koenreich and R. W. Whiteleather. But both seats had been Democratic before yesterday's voting.

One other Democrat, Harold J. Astry, Third Ward Councilman, was unopposed.

Calvin Is Mayor At Columbiana

Gormley Is Unseated By Democrat

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 9—Erwood Calvin, a Democrat, was elected mayor of Columbiana yesterday with 1,323 total votes cast to set a new voting record here.

He defeated Mayor K. T. Gormley, Republican, 743 to 447.

S. Richard Orr, Democrat, was re-elected village clerk without opposition. He received 828 votes. Republican Charles B. Fuhrman was re-elected to the treasurer's post over Democrat George Keller, 619 to 556.

With six councilmen to elect Democratic candidates won five seats. Elected were: E. Charles Fisher, 732; Oliver Harrold, 704; Raymond Spiker, 691; Walter Crawford, 644; Ernest Werner, 636 and the lone Republican, Walter N. Miller with 633 votes. Trailing were J. L. Hum, 510; Charles Donbar, 507; Thomas Watt, 495; George Childers, 440, all Republicans and Raymond Liston, 502, a Democrat.

The entire Republican board of public affairs was re-elected: Ray Harrold, 644; Clyde Hoover, 692 and Carl Keller, 622. Defeated were Grant Bevington, 525 and Lester Harrold, 547. Both are Democrats.

With three to elect board of education balloting finished: Dr. F. R. Moorehead, 1073; Walter Simpson, 924; William Allen, 748 and Oscar Beishelt, 371.

School Levy Beaten

The two-mill school levy was defeated with 585 against and 572 for. The colored oleo question received 613 for and 549 against. The office-type ballot received 553 for and 401 against.

Also in Columbiana both county levies passed. The child welfare received 643 and 396 against and the tuberculosis levy was approved 690 to 396.

With one rural precinct unreported, the vote of Fairfield township trustees was E. B. McCamon, 1020 and William Miller, 893. Both men were incumbents, Robert Stewart trailed with 619 votes.

Colored margarine was soundly defeated in the township 483 to 114. The office-type ballot was

Have Your Contribution Ready

There is no secret about the loophole in the pension plans promoted by C. I. O. It's the relationship of the plans to federal old-age benefits.

Employees now contribute to old-age benefits and will contribute more when congress raises the rate of payroll deductions for social security benefits. Thus, employees are being signed up in effect to contributory pension plans, despite the negotiators' original position that employers should pay everything. Not only will employees be contributing to their pensions but all the plans agreed to so far call for contributions to the insurance benefits included in the plans.

This is how pension plans coordinated with old-age benefits under the social security system work:

An employee guaranteed a pension of $100 a month if he chooses to retire at age 65 after 25 years of service will receive part of this from his federal old-age benefits, which he and his employer have paid for out of his earnings since 1937 at a rate of 1 percent apiece on the first $3,000 (later to be increased by congress). The remainder needed to meet the employee's retirement benefit (this will vary according to length of service and rate of pay) will come from a retirement fund set aside by the employer. Obviously, the more money the retired employee is entitled to draw under federal old-age benefits, the less money he is entitled to draw from his employer's retirement fund. Therefore, employers will have a strong incentive to favor substantial increases in the rate of payroll deductions for old-age benefits payable by the federal social security administration. Not only will employees be contributing to their own pensions, but they will be contributing ever-larger amounts.

There is nothing wrong with this, if it's what unionized employees want. But the fact is that most of them haven't thought it through. The tragedy is that many of them will believe union negotiators who claim they won pensions for nothing. They didn't. The pensions will be paid for in large part by the employees themselves. There's no such thing as something for nothing, not even in the dream world where fair dealers scamper blithely over huge mounds of unpaid bills.

The Voting Was Quiet

In contrast with the Philippine Islands, where self-government still is a novelty, there was no excitement as the citizens of the United States went to the polls Tuesday. In the Philippines, 17 were dead within a few hours after the polls opened. But nothing out of the ordinary occurred here at home.

In the big cities, strong-arm squads pushed a few people around, in like with the type of pressure politics popular these days, but American tempers were even. There was little, if any, gunplay. No one was killed. Voters who went to the polls regarded Tuesday as just another day. Everything was quiet—too quiet.

The United States is suffering from political apathy. Millions of citizens who should have been vitally interested in the election Tuesday were frankly unable to fan a spark of interest. With such exceptions as always will occur when there's room for differences of opinion, those who voted felt they were going through the motions of a function which had lost part of its meaning. And many of them felt that way because they knew they were outnumbered by those who weren't taking the trouble to vote.

This is becoming the most serious problem of representative democracy in the United States

—this failure to vote and, beyond that, the reasons for the failure. There has been a commission appointed to study almost everything about public affairs. The time has come for a commission to study and report on the causes for the decline of interest in self-government.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERNAN

The Nobel prize committee which gave no award this year in literature evidently didn't get around to reading any of the election pamphlets.

One candidate was reported so impressed with the biography written by his press agents that now he insists on his conscience addressing him as "mister" when it speaks. Then he says, "do you have an appointment?"

He was the one who said he rehearsed his speeches while shaving his whiskers . . . some thought he would have done better to save the whiskers and shave the speeches.

We should know in a few hours whether the better men have won or whether our candidates have lost.

But it was a real exciting campaign in New York . . . the President's cabinet met in Manhattan for the first time since the government moved to Washington.

They came not only to enlighten and given strength to the people but to elect a few Democrats too.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

FOLLOWING childbirth, some women develop backache. This type of pain, which is usually the result of poor posture during pregnancy, is chiefly felt in the lower part of the back. If not treated it may persist for years.

The best treatment is given through a series of exercises designed to strengthen the abdominal and pelvic muscles, and to overcome any tendency to the forward bending of the spine known as lordosis.

Still in Bed

These exercises are started while the new mother is still in bed within 48 hours after her baby is born in the case of a first child, or within 24 hours after delivery if she has had more than one baby.

Started under hospital supervision, the exercises, as a rule, are continued for six weeks. Then a second series of exercises is begun and continued until the proper posture is attained.

The first exercises are very simple and the starting position is the same for all—the patient lies flat on her back with the knees bent.

Releases Breath

In one exercise, she breathes in slowly, expanding the chest and abdomen, then releases the breath but keeps the muscles of the abdomen tense to hold the chest in its raised position. This is repeated ten times.

For the second exercise, the patient draws the abdomen in, moves the hips backward with the lower part of the back pressed against the bed. This position is maintained for a few moments; then the muscles are allowed to relax, and the exercise is repeated. This exercise is done ten times.

With the chin drawn in, the patient raises the head as far as possible and then slowly lowers it. This third exercise is then repeated with the arms stretched forward and the shoulders raised. With practice, the exercise may be repeated a number of times.

For the treatment of poor posture, the physician should be consulted.

Q's & A's

Q—Where did George Washington take command of the Continental Army?

A—Washington arrived at the headquarters of the Army at Cambridge, Mass., and under a great elm tree, afterward named the Washington Elm, assumed command July 3, 1775.

Q—What was the denomination of the church Abraham Lincoln attended while President?

A—Lincoln as president was a regular attendant at a Presbyterian church, and his pew bears a silver plate on the arm stating that he sat there on Sunday mornings. He never formally joined a church or a denomination.

—Pope Pius XII

—Premier Shigeru Yoshida of Japan.

World pressure in these days is far too strong to be harnessed within the confines of any single camp—or insulated from one another by any iron curtain. However, there is still time for a curtain raiser and new act.

Farmers Feted In Columbiana

Two Clubs Sponsor Annual Affair

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 9—Annual Farmers night was observed jointly by the Columbiana Rotary and Kiwanis clubs Monday evening, with a dinner meeting at Fairfield school.

About 200 were in attendance for the turkey dinner served at 6:30 by ladies of the East Fairfield Methodist church, each club member having a farmer as his guest. Rev. A. R. Brown of the Rotary club offered the invocation and R. J. Barrow of the Kiwanis club led group singing.

I. P. Lewis of New Waterford, a member of the Rotary club, and prominent in the Columbiana and Mahoning County Fruit Growers' association presided as chairman of the program committee and presented the speaker, Dr. L. I. Rummell, dean of the College of Agriculture of Ohio State university and director of the Ohio agricultural experiment station at Wooster.

Speaks On Food

Speaking on "The Nation's Food Supply," Dr. Rummell said food won the war and will win the peace. He spoke of the greatness of Ohio in the production of food and of its industrial might. In addition to being one of the most industrialized states in the Union, he said Ohio stands sixth in farm products which bring in more than a billion dollars.

Increasingly large crops, he said, are due partly to improvement in the quality and quantity of seeds and the production of new varieties, on which the experiment station is constantly working. Soil conservation and rotation of crops were also mentioned as two of the most important factors.

President William Knuth of the Rotary club announced that the program next Monday evening will be in charge of C. F. Moser, and that the speaker will be Walter Firestone, past president of the Canton Rotary club.

Introduces Guests

Vice President William Longshore of the Kiwanis club introduced Kiwanis lieutenant governor, Leslie Dunlap of Salem, and Sam Belieff of the Kiwanis club, who was co-chairman with Mr. Lewis of the committee on arrangements. He announced the weekly meeting at Bundy's next Monday evening.

Four Salem Rotarians were visitors, J. C. McKee, Joseph Martin,

Thomas Darling and Ray Stockton. Special guests were James Pendry, district soil conservationist, Floyd C. Lower, county farm extension agent, and his assistant, Harry Smith, all of Lisbon.

The board of education of Columbiana special district decided at its meeting Monday evening to have a dedication of the new addition to the High school building, built at cost of $335,000. Earl Newell, president of the board, will appoint a committee to fix a date and arrange details.

Clarence Haines of Canton, a graduate of Mount Union college, was hired to teach English and public speaking. Five of the six new High school rooms in the new addition have been occupied. The remaining new room and the gymnasium will be completed soon.

A contract for supplying coal was awarded the R. & R. Coal Co.

The Brownie troop of Girl Scouts of the Methodist church had a Halloween party in the dining room of the church Saturday evening with 25 brownies and 13 guests present. A lighted pumpkin surrounded by fall fruit and foliage centered the luncheon table. Prizes at games went to Carol Gaston, Kay Laughlin, Margaret Hively, Marian Kennedy, Jackie Boring and Lucy Keylor.

Troop 1, Girl Scouts, will meet in the High school building, Wednesday evening at 7.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK
Oswald Jacoby is a big, bear-like man who has won fame by holding hands.

Not lady hands—card hands.

Right now Ossie is looking for somebody to give $5,000 to. Anybody. That is, anybody who can beat him at the new pastebord epidemic—Canasta.

Some nine months ago he Hal Boyle spent a dozen hours playing this pastime and decided he knew enough about it to write a book. He did. And his "How to Win at Canasta" has sold over 300,000 copies.

But a number of other people also wrote books on Canasta. After reading their books—and re-reading his book—Jacoby decided he was the best Canasta player in the world.

"I'M WILLING to pay $5,000 to anyone who can beat me," he announced. "There may be a couple of unknown guys in Oshkosh who can do it, but I doubt it. And I'm sure there is no other Canasta author able to—not if they play the way they write."

He has reason for self-confidence. This 46-year-old, grizzled, gray, 6-foot-two-inch Texan is a fine mathematician. He began playing bridge at the age of 7. Since 1930 he has won the Vanderbilt cup, the Kentucky Derby of tournament bridge, six times.

Precocity runs in his tribe. "My father entered college at 14, I entered at 15 and my son at 16," he said, smiling. "I guess the family is petering out."

He quit Columbia university at 19 to become the nation's youngest life insurance actuary.

"And I'm still a consulting actuary," he said. "I'm not in cards for a business."

But they are a nice, good-paying hobby.

Jacoby says there is no card game that can be played perfectly, and that if someone invented a machine that could—"a good player could beat it because he could predict what the machine would do."

His tip to amateurs: To play any card game well you have to avoid patterns.

"As you grow older you tend to fall into patterns," he said. "But once a great player gets read by the others, he falls into the second rank. I put the late P. Harold Sims, a fine player, out of championship bridge by figuring out that he invariably made certain plays on certain card holdings. I was the first to figure him out. You have to vary your game."

WHY IS HE so good?

"There are card players with better memories than mine, but none is as good a mathematician. I also have a fast mind, I'm unreadable—so far at least—and I can outguess other people."

Jacoby feels that Canasta isn't a brief craze like Mah-Jongg but will stay popular a long time.

"It has already hit the sale of bridge supplies," he said. "It is much easier to play than bridge, but harder to play well. It has more psychology, fewer rules and more common sense."

"Canasta is the greatest family pastime that has ever come along. It's doing more to keep people at home than television—and it's cheaper."

And if you have trouble learning it at first don't worry—in a four-player game there are, he says, some 344, 985, 116, 783, 580 possible hands.

What is the best of all card games?

"Poker!" said Ossie positively. "There is no doubt of it—poker." And does he regard himself as the best poker player as well as the top bridge and Canasta player?

"No, indeed," said Jacoby, and a far away look came into his eyes.

"The best poker player I ever saw was a little hunchbacked fellow in Memphis. I forgot his name—but I never saw anyone play better."

PENNEY'S DOLLAR DAYS ARE TERRIFIC

Helen Karas Receives Surprise Party Monday

Miss Helen Jane Karas, future bride of James Edgar Waggle of Washingtonville, was complimented with a colorful party Monday evening given by her twin sister, Miss Mary Jane Karas, in the VFW hall.

One hundred guests attended the affair, which was a surprise to Miss Karas. As she came into the room, the hostess presented her a corsage of yellow pompons and pink carnations.

Gifts for a shower were arranged under a pink and green umbrella on a table.

Luther's Life Reviewed

Mrs. G. D. Keister gave a review of the life of Martin Luther at a meeting of the I. H. S. class of Trinity Lutheran church Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becknell, E. 10th st.

Mrs. Keister augmented her devotional talk with pictures. Lester Shinn, president, officiated.

The birthday anniversaries of Charles Youtz, teacher; Mrs. Wade Schaefer and Mrs. Lester Lehman were given recognition. They are all in this month.

Mrs. Russell Miller, associate hostess, assisted in serving a lunch with unusual Thanksgiving appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Halverstadt and Mr. and Mrs. Olin Muntz will be hosts at the Dec. 14 meeting in the Halverstadt home, E. State st.

Masons Have Dinner

Autumn trimmings made the table attractive when members of Salem commandery, Knights Templar, and its auxiliary enjoyed a dinner Tuesday evening in the Masonic temple. Hostesses were Mrs. William G. Aldom and Mrs. Byron Albright.

Mrs. J. Fred Bryan, president, presided at the auxiliary meeting. Mrs. Arthur Schropp and daughter, Mrs. Howard Groner, composed the program committee.

Mrs. George Mountford and Mrs. John Wilkinson will be hostesses for the Dec. 13 meeting. Mrs. M. A. Kelly and Mrs. Charles D. Wernet will arrange the program.

Club Enjoys Program

Mrs. Maurice M. Sandrock gave the opening number on the program at a meeting of the Travelers club Tuesday afternoon in the public library assembly room. The theme of her well prepared paper was "Heigh! Ho! Come to the Fair."

"Glass" was the subject of an interesting paper offered by Mrs. Howard Foltz.

The second part of the program, in charge of Misses Lillian Schroeder and Helen French, was a movie, relating to oddities in Ohio's industry, Ohio's good earth and Ohio State fair.

Nov. 16 will be Guest day with Miss Emilie Ruetnick of Cleveland, speaker.

Society Names Officers

Mrs. E. B. Egli of Lisbon was elected president of the Columbian County Medical society auxiliary at the Tuesday session in the East Liverpool Country club. She succeeds Mrs. G. W. Schoolnic of East Liverpool.

Other officers are: Vice president, Mrs. M. C. Hanysh of Lisbon; secretary, Mrs. Ralph Vance of Salem; treasurer, Mrs. Julian Jones of Lisbon; president-elect, Mrs. Ralph Starbuck of Salem.

The next meeting will be held in January.

Church To Show Movie

The public is invited to see the color-sound movie, "God Is My Landlord," at 8 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 13, at St. Jacob's Evangelical and Reformed church. This famous picture tells of a titling experiment with a wheat crop on a plot donated by Henry Ford.

There will be no admission charge. Howard C. Wilhelm is chairman of the project committee.

Dr. Kitzmiller

Dr. A. B. Kitzmiller, professor of psychology at Mt. Union college, will be guest speaker for the Leornians this evening, in the Salem public library.

The theme of the program is "In the House" and Dr. Kitzmiller will stress child-parent relationships in his address.

Bingo prizes were won by Mrs. Nellie Mileusnic, Mrs. Agnes Kyser, Mrs. Charles Chappell, Mrs. Caroline Pukalski, Mrs. Regina Theiss, Mrs. Sadie Luxeul, Mrs. Margaret DeWan, Miss Marge Theiss, Mrs. Dorothy Senior, Mrs. Phil Hartman, Mrs. Marge Clunan, Mrs. Mary Harshman and Miss Margaret Entriken.

Mrs. Mary Navoyosky won the special prize. Her son, Stephen, entertained with accordion selections.

Laid with a lace cloth, the buffet table was centered with an arrangement of yellow pompons and pink and red carnations. On either side were lighted white candles in crystal holders, which were tied with green and white ribbon. Favors were plastic baskets in pastel shades filled with candy.

Guests were seated at a horse-shoe shaped table, which was covered with white linen and made attractive with flowers.

Mrs. Joseph Mayhew and daughter, Patricia; Mrs. Robert Clunan, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Margaret Simonds, Mrs. William Richards, Mrs. Laura Duffy, Miss Betty Mingroni and Miss Vera Mae Waggle assisted the hostess in serving.

Guests were from Salem, Leetonia, Washingtonville, Lisbon, Youngstown and Canfield.

Miss Karas and Mr. Waggle have planned their wedding for Saturday, Nov. 26, at St. Stanislaus Catholic church, in Youngstown.

Group Welcomes Member

Mrs. Winifred Trewitz was welcomed as a new member of Group 7, Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service, at the Tuesday evening meeting in the church. Thirty-eight members and three guests attended. Mrs. L. J. Hoppes used for her devotional theme, "Harvest Time."

Miss Alice Whinery gave the Bible story of "Ruth and Naomi," which was illustrated with slides shown by Miss Eleanor McMurray.

Hostesses, Mrs. H. W. Reeves, chairman, Mrs. R. J. Perrine, Mrs. Davis Lane and Mrs. Bertha Hoopes served refreshments. The group will have a booth at the WSCS benefit Dec. 7 in the church.

Named President

Leo Kline, Jr., was named president in the election of officers for the Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist church held Sunday evening at the church.

Vice president is Phillip Hunter; secretary, Joyce Cosgrove, and treasurer, Donna Schoss. Advisors are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eddy and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Russell.

McCullochs Honored

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McCulloch and son, Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Null were honored at a delightful dinner party Tuesday evening given by the McCulloch store employees at Butler grange hall. Places were arranged for 49.

Games furnished entertainment for the group.

Lutherans To Convene

The executive board and circles leaders of the Daughters of Emmanuel of the Emmanuel Lutheran church will meet at 7:30 tonight in the home of Mrs. John Theiss, Homewood ave.

CDA To Meet

Court Salem, Catholic Daughters of America, will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the K. of C. home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Affolter have moved into their new home, 2007 E. Pershing st.

Mrs. George Sommers of Pidgeon rd. has entered the Central Clinic for surgical treatment.

MOVIE STAR Jane Powell, 20, and bridegroom Geary Steffen, 26, smile happily following marriage at Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills, Cal. They are honeymooning along the California coast and will make their home in Westwood. Bridegroom's father, G. A. Steffen, was world lightweight boxing champion under the name of Willie Richey in 1912. (International Soundphoto)

RECIPES

Oatmeal Muffins
INGREDIENTS: 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup butter or margarine or vegetable shortening, 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 egg, 1 cup milk.

METHOD: Mix and sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Add the butter or margarine or vegetable shortening and cut in with a pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles corn meal. Add the rolled oats and mix well. Beat the egg with a rotary beater or electric mixer thoroughly, add milk and beat again to combine; add to flour mixture, stirring only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill greased muffin pans about two-thirds full and bake in a hot (425F.) oven for 15 to 25 minutes, depending on size of muffins.

Note: For steam-fried eggs, fry in butter over low flame, in covered skillet.

Snap Beans, Dutch-Style
INGREDIENTS: 1½ slices bacon, ¼ cup very thin onion strips, 2 cups cooked or canned drained snap beans, 1½ teaspoons vinegar, dash of sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of freshly-ground pepper.

METHOD: Cut bacon in small squares and cook over low heat in a medium-sized skillet until crisp, turning them over frequently. Remove bacon squares from fat. Add the onion to the fat and cook it until it is yellowed, stirring frequently—about 5 to 10 minutes. Add the beans, vinegar, sugar, salt, and pepper, and heat to boiling, stirring several times. Serve garnished with the squares of crisp bacon. Makes 4 servings.

Strouss' Opening Attracts Throng

One of the largest store openings in Salem's history occurred Tuesday evening when 7,000 people visited the new Strouss-Hirschberg department store on S. Broadway.

People lined up five and six deep from the store in both directions, to E. Pershing st. and E. State st. The open house, scheduled from 7 to 9 p. m. continued until 10 to accommodate the visitors.

Some of the visitors came from Strouss' other stores in Youngstown and New Castle. Hundreds, both local and out-of-town people, were discouraged by the crowd and waited until today to see the new store.

Visitors were given souvenirs. The store was resplendent with 25 to 30 baskets of flowers, sent to the store by other merchants.

Strouss-Hirschberg opened for regular business at 9:30 this morning and faced a throng of shoppers.

The store has been 10 months in getting ready for the opening. Alteration of the building began in January. It is managed by David Keller.

Boy Scout News

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 9.—The board of education of Yellow Creek School District announced today it will ask a special election January 10 on a $117,000 bond issue for construction of a four-room rural school building in adjacent Washington township.

Galley Re-Elected Mayor At Leetonia By 13 Vote Margin

LEETONIA, Nov. 9.—Mayor Fred W. Galley, Independent, was re-elected yesterday, defeating John A. Arnold, Democrat, by 13 votes—447 to 434.

Seats were split evenly between Democrats and Independents for council. Elected were Raymond Baker, 411, Sam Beltempo, 381 and Carl Varian, 445, all Democrats and Independents, O. G. Deffenbaugh, 402, Mrs. M. B. Lodge, 407 and S. Hays Sitler, 455.

Defeated were Lawrence Berg, 320, Andrew Duco, 369, and Frances Eskay, 308, Democrats, and Lynn Ripley, 367, John Rose, 237 and Chester Whitacre, 379, Independents.

The three board of public affairs posts went to Democrats John Anglemeyer, 470, Clarence Barnes, 465 and Michael Leeson, 477. Defeated Independents were W. A. Rankin, 248, John S. Theil, 269 and Vernon Walters, 357.

In the six-cornered contest for three district board of education places winners are: Miss Betty Helt, 852; Charles Stelts, 608 and Wilbur Stratton, 594. Trailers were Jack Ripley, 581, Walter Berg, 567 and D. F. Grappy, 478.

J. A. McCue, clerk, received 608 votes and Paul A. Sevenich, treasurer, 595 votes. Neither was opposed.

Unofficial returns on the one-mill school levy indicate it passed almost three to one. Totals this morning were 896 for and 339 against. The oleo issue was defeated 939 against 526 for.

Both the county tuberculosis and child welfare proposals got favorable support.

With two Salem township trustees to elect, Hart and Koontz were the winners. Results were Charles G. Hart, 758, Lawrence Kibler, 738 and Simon Koontz, 771.

bell and Edwin S. Dawson were replaced to five-year terms as board of education members. Campbell polled 3129 votes and Dawson 2827.

The 1950 council setup has four Republicans and three Democrats in office with a Republican president of council, the identical situation now existing in the city's legislative body.

In the Perry township voting, Galen Greenisen and P. J. Dean were re-elected township trustees, defeating Austin I. Getz, former county commissioner. Greenisen led the township ticket with 2393 while Dean polled 2118. Getz's total was 1799.

A. H. Fultz and John Herman, Jr., were unopposed for township constables.

BROTHER HIS OTHER ARM
GERMANTOWN, Tenn.—Eight year-old Gordon Haas fell from his pony two days before his piano recital and broke an arm, but he still was able to perform. His brother, 11-year-old Johnny, played the left-hand part.

Lehman

Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City.

The GOP national chairman, Guy George Gabrielson, said in a statement that "the principles which Senator Dulles expounded in his campaign are those which ultimately will prevail, because they are right."

And Senator Brewster (R-Me), chairman of the senate Republican campaign committee, belittled Democratic rejoicing over keeping a senate seat they have held 22 years.

Belittles Victory

"Their precarious control of the senate," he said at his home at Dexter, Me., "depends upon six seats far more doubtful than the one they have retained in New York. A good professional has beaten a good amateur."

In New Jersey, Gabrielson said, the reelection of Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll was a blow at "bossism" and "Hagueism."

Driscoll handed a direct defeat to his Democratic rival, State Senator Elmer W. Wene. And he gave an indirect drubbing to Frank Hague, the former Jersey City mayor and boss of the state Democratic organization who backed Wene.

Hague announced he is "stepping aside." At 73, he said, he has reached an age when it is impossible to "carry on the arduous duties" of the Democratic leadership.

Boston voters "tossed out the last old-time boss still in power when they refused a fifth term to Democratic Mayor James M. Curley. They picked another Democrat, City Clerk John B. Hynes. Hynes was temporary mayor in 1947 while Curley did a five months' stretch in a federal penitentiary after being convicted of mail fraud.

New York state once again is back in the Democratic fold. President Truman lost it last year.

As a result of yesterday's elections, Mr. Truman told the Democratic women's club last night, the second session of the 81st congress is going to do a better job than the "remarkable" one he credited to the first session.

"And I am more convinced," he said, "that the Democratic party, the party of the people, will continue to do that job for the welfare of this nation, and for the welfare of the world."

Actually, whatever push his "Fair Deal" program gets out of Tuesday's balloting will be mostly psychological. The Democrats got no big numerical reinforcements in congress.

They did win all the congressional seats at stake, but those numbered only three.

Lehman's victory gives them an extra hand in the senate. But at the start of the new session, the senate line-up probably will be just what it was after the 1948 election: 54 Democrats, 42 Republicans.

And in the house, it will be 262 Democrats, 170 Republicans, one Democrat-Liberal, one American-Labor, one vacancy.

Bruce Pelley Loses

In Hanoverton
HANOVERTON, Nov. 9.—Candidates for re-election to the offices of mayor, clerk and treasurer were unopposed Tuesday. Don Bailey, incumbent mayor, polled 131 votes.
Albert Ewing, clerk, got 125 votes and L. E. Faloon, treasurer, polled 123.
Seven candidates ran for six vacancies in village council. Two new members elected are Frank Knestrick, 103, and William S. Rush, 123. Others running included Albert Loudon, 125, J. A. Marquis, 99, Howard Pike, 124, and Joseph Wilson, 112. Bruce Pelley, polling 42 votes, was not elected.

Oleo, Office

significance: Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland, a Democrat, gained re-election by margins ranging from two to three to one. Observers feel Mayor Burke may well use this solid victory as an indication he should seek his party's nomination for U. S. Senator in 1950.

Actually, yesterday's election was oleo day. That was the big question.

Oddities Noted

There were the usual election oddities:
Mahoning county, an urban center where the oleo bill appeared likely to pass, turned down the colored spread by a few thousand votes.
Montgomery county turned down the office-type ballot—the only urban county to do so.
A hasty survey of available returns pointed up the influence of population on the oleo question. Six of the larger urban counties—Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Montgomery, Lucas and Summit—approved yellow margarine. Six of the smaller counties—Vinton, Geauga, Morgan, Morrow, Holmes and Carroll—flatly turned it down.

Yet, on the question of the office-type ballot, the rural counties split three and three. Casual conning of the state's mayoralty races, where a partisan ballot was used, fails to show any appreciable party trend.

Party Wins Vary

A Democrat won in Cleveland, but Republicans won in Youngstown and Akron. In smaller cities, some Republicans upset Democrat incumbents—and some Democrats returned the favor against Republican incumbents.
Ohio voters also considered bond issues in city, exempted village and local school districts, mostly for new buildings or additions to present buildings.
In cases where the voting was close—where the issue received from 55 to 64 per cent of the vote—voters may not know if the issue passed or failed until the supreme court steps in with a ruling.

School Bonds At

Damascus Win

DAMASCUS, Nov. 9.—Voters here yesterday approved the $10,000 Goshen-Union school bond issue by a 134 to 97 vote.

Ten Goshen township candidates were elected to the board of education.

Elected to the board for two-year periods were Bardo with 156 votes; Hanna, 87; Max Long, 80; Ellis Steer, 77; and Daukile, 42.

Those chosen for four-year terms were Owen, 161 votes; Riley, 170; Greenamyer, 153; Sommerville, 114; and Bye, 102.
Miller was chosen justice of the peace, topping Cline, his closest rival, who had five. Carr was elected constable with 12 votes.

Goshen township trustees elected were Frederick, 162 votes; Mather, 160; Hiseley, 54; and Karlen, 83.

Candidates receiving votes for the Mahoning county board of education were Manchester, 192 votes; Eschelman, 170; Rickert, 140; Miller, 37; Bishop, 34; Skipp, 32; and Macon, 17.

Voting on special issues for the township were colored oleomargarine, for, 87; against, 175; office-type ballot, for, 127; against, 81.

New Waterford Voters

Approve Beer Sales

NEW WATERFORD, Nov. 9.—The greatest number of votes ever cast here—288—was recorded Tuesday, as voters trooped to the polls to decide a beer sale and local option election.
The beer sale question was passed, 162 to 120.
On five questions in the local option election, the results were as follows:
For sale of any intoxicating liquor—162 for, 117

Jerry Krall Injured, May Be Kept Out Of Illinois Contest

OSU Star Has Ankle Injury; X-Ray Today

Janowicz May Be Used At Halfback If Star Is Out

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A look at X-ray pictures today may show whether ace Tailback Jerry Krall will be able to line-up with Ohio State against Illinois here Saturday.

Krall, senior from Toledo, suffered a cleat injury to an ankle yesterday as Coach Wes Fesler put the Buckeyes through a rough scrimmage. Trainers said at first glance the injury seemed more painful than serious. They termed it a "serious bruise."

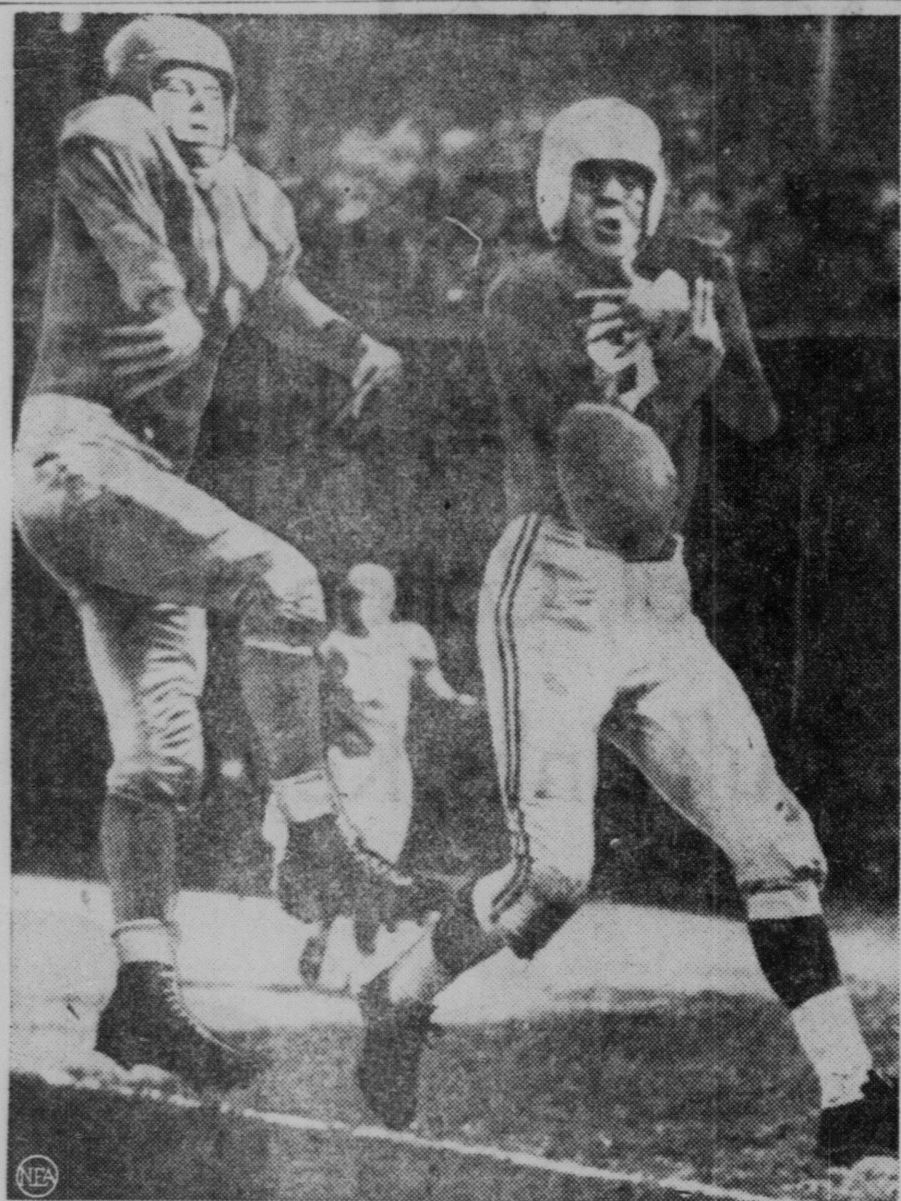

Krall, one of the better runners in the Western conference, has shared the starting tailback spot with Jimmy Clark most of the season. Clark also is the leading safety man.

After Krall's injury, Vic Janowicz, used mostly at defensive fullback before he suffered a leg injury in the Southern California game last month, alternated with Clark at left half.

The Elyria flash played halfback in High school and as a freshman at OSU. And Fesler readily admitted:

"It's no secret. He's been learning tailback plays since two weeks before the season started. If Krall's not able to run, it's the only thing we can do (use Janowicz at halfback)."

Fesler said he was well pleased with the Bucks in the scrimmage session which was run in two sections: One for the first-string offensive eleven and the other for the defensive starters. He called off a second scrimmage which had been scheduled for today.

HOT POTATO—This could be a highland fling, or something like that. But it's Achilles' heel, left, Lion halfback, batting down a pass thrown by Cardinal quarterback Jim Hardy, which, judging by the expression on his face, Chicago right end Malcolm Kutner believed he had. The Cards whacked the Lions in Detroit, 42-18.

Fraley Selects Oklahoma Over Missouri In Weekly Choices

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" along with some priceless pearls of information which will startle your friends—and your psychiatrist.

Game of the Week
Oklahoma over Missouri—It's one of the games of the year, with the Spooners unbeaten and the show-me boys having lost two games by one point each. Missouri will take a lot of showing, but if Oklahoma ran on Broadway as long as it did, it should last one more week on the road.

The East
Notre Dame over North Carolina—A short "nip" is a necessity at curling matches.

Army over Pennsylvania—And how's for a five-day week for six-day bike riders?
Minnesota over Pittsburgh—Queen Elizabeth was a demon deer hunter.

Also: Fordham over Boston college, Cornell over Dartmouth, Princeton over Yale, Boston university over Maryland, Brown over Harvard, Navy over Columbia, Rutgers over NYU and Syracuse over Holy Cross.

The South
Tulane over Vanderbilt—Billiards are hard on the nerves. LSU over Mississippi State—Take a match in Rochester, N. Y. Alabama over Georgia Tech—A fly caused a guy to miscue and lose.

Tennessee over Mississippi—He knocked himself off.
Also: Auburn over Georgia, Kentucky over Florida, Duke over George Washington, Miami over South Carolina, Wake Forest over N. S. State, Duquesne over Clemson and Richmond over VPI.

The Southwest
Rice over Texas Aggies—King Tut was a backgammon fiend. SMU over Arkansas—Julius Caesar loved bull fights.

Texas over TCU—Mary, Queen of Scots, adored golf.
Baylor over Wyoming—Mohammed popularized horseback riding.

Also: Arizona over Temple State, San Francisco over Tulsa and Hardin Simmons over West Texas.

The Midwest
Ohio State over Illinois—Farmyards are great hunting spots. Michigan over Indiana—Animals shiver to get warm.

Wisconsin over Iowa—There is no national checker championship.
Iowa State over Nebraska—Estonian basketball lasts five months.

Also: Purdue over Marquette, Northwestern over Colgate, Oklahoma Aggies over Kansas State.

The West
California over Oregon—Beagles chiefly hunt rabbits. Michigan State over Oregon State—No relation to bugles.

UCLA over Washington—Dominoes were a great gambling game. Stanford over Idaho—Till discovery of loaded dice.

Also: Colorado Aggies over Brigham Young, Nevada over Loyola, Colorado over New Mexico, COP over Utah, Utah State over Montana State, Santa Clara over St. Mary's.

Loen Hart Is Named Lineman Of The Week

Play In Michigan State Game Wins Award For Irish End

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Big Leon Hart, Notre Dame's husky 240-pound end, is this week's lineman of the week.

Hart's work in the Michigan State game earned him the award in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Thus for the second straight week the award went to a player from the Pittsburgh, Pa., area. Hart is from Turtle Creek, Pa. Last week the award went to Duke's Blaine Eason from Altoona, Pa.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach, thinks so highly of his six-foot-four end, he would like to try him at fullback, carrying the ball. However, Hart is too good a blocker at end.

Besides he sometimes carries the ball on end-around plays and when he snares forwards passes. In one play of the Michigan State game Hart caught a pass. Two MSC tacklers tried to stop him, but both were knocked flat.

Hart's performance surpassed that of Jimmy Kynes, Florida center, who sparked his team to an upset triumph over Georgia. Playing on both offense and defense Kynes turned in one of the best games of his career. He was always in the right spot at the right time.

Two tackles, Dick Johnson of Virginia, and Jack Jennings of Ohio State, played major roles in their teams' victories over Pennsylvania and Pitt.

Johnson's tackles caused Penn fumbles that led to Virginia's first touchdown, then in the third period he stopped Penn's Fullback Ray Dooney in brilliant goal-line stand. Jennings kept Pitt from gaining a bigger lead than 10-0 before his Buckeye teammates rallied to win, 14-10.

St. Louis Flyers Make It Hot Race

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Flyers evidently intend to make a race of it in the western division of the American Hockey league.

The Flyers, playing on home ice for the first time in two weeks, overwhelmed the Providence Reds, 8 to 3, last night to gain ground on the leading Cleveland Barons. It was the only game scheduled.

Cleveland has 19 points, compared with 15 for the St. Louis team.

With Cliff Simpson on the sidelines for three weeks with an injured ankle, the Flyers worked two new lines through the Providence defense with success.

Ernie Trigg led the scoring for St. Louis with three goals, a hat trick, as the Flyers jumped to a 4-1 lead and then added two goals in each of the last two periods.

Danny Summers scored twice for Providence.

Fight Results

LOS ANGELES — Irish Bob Murphy, 173, San Diego, stopped Lloyd Marshall, 170, Sacramento, 4.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Tony Masicarelli, 161½, New York, knocked out Toby Reid, 165½, Jacksonville, 3.

STOCKTON, Calif. — Johnny Efran, 126, Honolulu, stopped Mike Bernal, 125, San Francisco, 5.

Andy Pilnery, former Notre Dame backfield great, is serving as assistant football coach to Henry Frnka at Tulane.

The total points scored by both teams in the Basketball association of America rose from 135.53 in 1946-47 to 160.02 per game last season.

Dodgers Going All Out For New Pitcher

Raffensberger Said To Be The One Branch Rickey Seeks

By JOE REICHLER
BROOKLYN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers are going all out for the one man they believe will help them win not only the 1950 National league pennant but the World Series as well. The man is southpaw Pitcher Ken Raffensberger of the Cincinnati Reds.

The hint that the Dodgers are hot after a "good, reliable" veteran pitcher, with no names mentioned, was dropped at an official press conference conducted by President Branch Rickey yesterday.

The conference was called to announce that 65-year-old Burt Shotton would be back as manager of the Dodgers next year.

Neither Rickey nor Shotton could come right out and say so but it was learned that Raffensberger is the pitcher both are eyeing.

During his recent tour of National league cities Rickey is said to have cornered Warren Giles, head man of the Reds, and talked to him about prospects of landing the 32-year-old mound vet.

"I think there might be a chance of getting the pitcher we're after before the season opens next April," Rickey said. He didn't identify flyers offered in exchange. At the same time he did not deny that the names of Catcher Bruce Edwards, infielder Eddie Miskis and outfielder Luis Olmo and Tommy Brown were mentioned as possible bait.

"I think the club is good enough to win the pennant as it stands right now," Shotton said. "However, we're after the World Series. We have lots of good kid pitchers. What we lack is a good, reliable, old pitcher, who can start games and relieve when necessary."

Raffensberger, working both as a starter and reliever last season, won 18 games and lost 17 for the seventh place Reds. Next season will be his 10th in the majors.

Midwest Notes On Grid Workouts

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Football notes from midwest practice fields:

Ohio State—Jerry Krall, ace tailback, is sidelined with an injured foot and may be unable to play against Illinois Saturday—He was carried off the field on a stretcher after being tackled during scrimmage.

Illinois—Johnny Karras and Ronnie Clark, sophomore halfbacks, sparked in a dummy scrimmage—Slip Kersulis, veteran end, was in his first workout since twisting his knee a week ago.

Iowa—Three guards are on the doubtful list.
Wisconsin—Liste Blackburne, outstanding fullback, may miss the Iowa game with a knee injury.

Michigan—Leo Koceski, No. 1 right half, is expected to play against Indiana.
Indiana—Pass defense is the order of the day.

Notre Dame — Coach Frank Leahy warned that the passing combination of Charles Justice and End Art Weiner will be one of the best faced by the Irish this season—Aerial defense and offense are No. 1 on the drill schedule for North Carolina.

Northwestern—The Wildcats are sharpening their running attack to spring against Colgate.

Defensive Line Kentucky's Strong Point

Nationally Ranked Wildcats Count Heavily On Defense

By BILL HUDSON
LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Kentucky's lofty perch among the South-eastern conference football elite is due to a sizeable extent to the work of its defensive line.

The none-too-bulgy forward wall hasn't given up a single point in three league games to date. This makes Kentucky look good for its three remaining circuit clashes beginning this week with Florida.

The line in eight games has allowed three touchdowns and only 527 yards net rushing for an average of 65.875 a game. The total defense is 1,243 yards, an average of 155.3 yards a game and only six touchdowns by all methods.

This figure doesn't seriously threaten the circuit's all-time mark but it looks pretty big in the face of today's razzle-dazzle offenses and adding machine scores.

Two of the eight foes—Southern Methodist and Louisiana State—combined to do more than 65 per cent of the damage.

What makes the line so tough? Paul Bryant, once-beaten Kentucky's chief of staff, says it is ability and determination.

Sparking the defensive unit are Guards Pat James and Bill Wannamaker; Tackle Bob Gain of Weirton, W. Va., and Center Harry Uilinski.

Gain is the granite-like junior who looks like the pick of the south's crop of tackles. The others are one-time backs who found themselves after a shift up front.

The only sour note in the defensive line to date has been the end play but Bryant reports happily the patient is improved in recent weeks.

Delving deeper into the statistics, Southern Methodist and Louisiana State are the only teams to flourish a ground attack worth more than 66 yards a game. Cincinnati, Southern Methodist and Mississippi Southern are the only ones to better 70 yards on passing.

No Need Fear $1 Coffee, Experts Say; Shortage Myth

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Coffee importers say you can stop worrying about the dollar-a-pound coffee.

Current myths of shortage and panic prices were born when recent reports indicated that in 1950 there may not, for the first time, be a surplus of green coffee in the coffee producing countries.

Take the supply situation. Theophilus de Andrade, president of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, told me: "The present shortage of green coffee—which is the shortage currently in the news—will not reach the public for a year."

The fact is that this year's coffee imports into the United States are rapidly approaching a point which will exceed all previous records. There is no danger of the general public not being able to buy coffee despite the impression some retailers are trying to give that a shortage is probable.

W. F. Williamson, secretary of the National Coffee Association, said there is nothing to be afraid of concerning our supplies.

Some experts still believe there may even be a surplus next year. Robert H. Bennett, sales and advertising manager of the Maxwell House Coffee division of General Foods, said he is far from certain there will not be a surplus of green coffee next year.

"We have a normal supply on hand in the United States now," Bennett said. "Maybe next year there will be somewhat less green coffee available than there was this year. But I insist that may or may not be so. No one can be positive."

His company is one of the two largest coffee importers in the world.

The devaluation of the English pound can alter the predicted lack of coffee surplus in 1950. In the past few years England has become a big coffee importer. But a spokesman for a dominant American importer believes that devaluation may seriously cut England's coffee purchases next year.

Yet prices are skyrocketing despite the normal supplies of coffee on hand. Hoarding by panicky housewives is the main underlying cause, according to all importers interviewed.

Bennett said Maxwell House is trying to buck this panic by informal rationing—withholding extra shipments from wholesalers. If roasters were to follow the trend of consumers they would be buying more green coffee than needed, thereby upping the basic prices.

GREEN COFFEE comes ashore at New York. There's still lots more where this load came from, the importers insist.

"It's obvious," he explained, "that if consumers clear out everything in sight on grocers' shelves, the retailers have to rush out and buy more, putting pressure on the green market. But our company's policy is to allot coffee to our customers only on a normal basis. We are therefore in effect rationing retailers through our wholesale trade. We believe this will cause coffee prices to settle more quickly."

He warns that when prices do settle they will be at a point considerably higher than for a long time. There must be a wholesale adjustment in coffee prices just as there has been in meat and other commodities is his explanation.

Representatives of a giant grocery chain, who refused to be quoted, warned that if consumers rush to buy chain store coffee when other brands go up they would drive the chains to hoist their retail prices despite their fixed lower price policy.

Can you benefit by hoarding coffee? All importers warn that spoilage could wipe out any savings.

Says the Pan-American Coffee Bureau's president: "Coffee in the bag, whether it is in the whole roasted bean or ground, loses its flavor in a matter of days. Vacuum-packed coffee, unopened, keeps for a much longer time but is definitely not intended to be kept for months."

GRANGES

Guildford grange will meet at 8:30 p. m. Saturday. There will be a special program of interest to all members.

Miss Eleanor Patterson, member of Yellow Creek grange in Columbiana county won the State grange dramatic contest held Saturday evening at Ashley school in Delaware county.

Winners were chosen by elimination with every grange in the state invited to enter the contest. Honors will be bestowed upon her at the state grange meeting in December at Columbus.

W. A. Morris represented the Ohio State grange Friday at the dinner meeting at the William Penn hotel, Pittsburgh, for the meeting of the Transportation Association of America.

The work being done by the association on a nation-wide basis was the main point of discussion. The meeting was attended by leaders of agriculture, manufacturing and business men of the eastern part of the United States.

Skunk Oil

Wonderful For CHEST COLDS

R. J. Blake, Pennsylvania druggist, says: "SKUNKOLE SALVE gives quick relief from distress of chest colds, croupy coughs, muscular aches and pains." For centuries, the rich, warm, penetrating oil of the lowly skunk has been used in Russia and other cold countries to relieve certain forms of congestion, rheumatism and sore, aching muscles. Now, this pure natural penetrating oil is incorporated with six other natural ingredients into a delightfully smelling aromatic salve. Its warm, stimulating glow will last hours longer than the cheaper petrolatum salves. Get a small jar at your druggist today. Don't wait! (If druggist out of stock, accept no substitutes but rush 75c to Oil-Tyme Medicine Co., Box 1128, Warren, Ohio, for genuine relief-giving SKUNKOLE SALVE. Or $3 to above address for a year's supply for the whole family.)

Claim French Girls Are More Friendly

ENDICOTT, N. Y. — French girls respond more readily to the "friendly" approach than American girls and don't play "hard to get," in the opinion of two Endicott College students.

"They (French girls) make better companions—you can talk to them more openly. They're more athletic."

"They wear less make-up, are more mature emotionally and intellectually—they're more feminine."

"They make better housewives because they like the work and aren't worrying about careers."

1,179 Get Aged Pay In County

Monthly Benefits
Total $48,755

"Monthly payments are being made to 8,904 persons in the Youngstown area at the rate of $2,452,456 per year under the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security act," William W. Wood, manager of the Youngstown office of the Social Security Administration, announced today.

"These figures," Wood explained, "are based on the payments made as of June 30, 1949 in Mahoning and Columbiana counties."

In Mahoning County, 2,692 retired workers, who are 65 or older, received $79,236 each month. Of these workers, 965 had wives aged 65 or older who received $15,013 each month; 713 widows over 65 received $15,808, while monthly payments to survivors of the 1,902 younger deceased workers totalled $31,702.

Columbiana County

In Columbiana county, 1,179 retired workers are receiving $31,160 per month; 386 had wives over 65 who are receiving $5,524. Monthly benefits on behalf of deceased workers were paid to 1,067 survivors at a total monthly rate of $17,595.

Wood estimated that several hundred thousand dollars are lost each year by Youngstown area residents who do not take advantage of their right to payment. A claim must be presented before any payment can be made.

This is not a needs program, Wood said. Payments are made to retired workers and to survivors of deceased workers on the basis of earned rights and from a fund to which the worker contributes during his working years.

Need Not Retire

It is not necessary that a worker over 65 permanently retire to receive payments. If an insured worker is at least 65 years old, he may receive payment for any month during which he does not work and earn $15 or more under the Social Security act, provided a claim is promptly made.

Wood estimates that several thousand local residents, over 65, may receive an old-age insurance payment for October if they present a formal claim for this money before the end of January, 1950.

The Youngstown field office is located at 123 W. Commerce st. in Room 501 of the Schween-Wagner building and is open each week day, except Saturday, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. The phone number is 4-4253.

Itinerant service is provided for persons not residing in Youngstown. Mr. John D. DePietro, field representative, may be contacted in the basement of the postoffice at East Liverpool each Wednesday and Friday from noon to 3 p. m. and at East Palestine, in the Red Cross building from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. the fourth Thursday of each month.

Eugene O. Wiles, field representative, visits Salem each Tuesday and may be reached on the second floor of the postoffice building from noon to 3 p. m. He also may be contacted at the postoffice in Sebring from 10 a. m. to noon the second Thursday of each month.

Colored Gates Guide Harried Commuters

PHILADELPHIA — Suburban commuters on the Reading lines will find that last-minute sprint for trains less harrowing from now on.

At least, the Reading Railroad hopes its new system of differently-colored gates for each suburban area will have that effect.

With the plan, the railroad says all a commuter has to do is spot the distinctive color assigned his community over one of the gates and then run for it. It's as simple as that.

The color system also is being used for timetables.

There's B-36 Battle In Texas, Too, As AF Fights Training Headaches

PARKING PROBLEM faces 8th Air Force as B-36 bombers begin to fill up the ramps at Carswell Air Force Base, Tex., originally built as a base for med.-sized, twin engine B-25s.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(NEA)—The big and controversial B-36 bombers roar into the air every day from the runways at Carswell Air Force base, untouched by the turbulent battle of the B-36 in Washington.

The battle at Carswell is not between Navy and Air Force, but against problems that have kept the B-36 training program from moving as fast as the Strategic Air Command would like it to move.

Men and materials are the headaches of the 8th Air Force, which took over the B-36 program on a field originally built for the medium-sized B-25.

Nearly everything starts from scratch.

Pilots are given transition checkouts on the big bomber, and they in turn check out other pilots assigned to B-36 training. Bombardiers and navigators have to have special training for the plane's unique equipment. Even veteran gunners have to start all over, because the guns of the B-36 are different and more complicated than any used during the war.

As a further complication, the B-36 is not being produced fast enough to provide sufficient planes for constant training of 8th Air Force crews assigned to them.

Of the two bomb groups at Carswell, one is at full strength, which means 30 planes under Strategic Air Command recommendations. The other is not at full strength, either in men or material. Some of its planes are at Rapid City, S. D., however, where a mobile training unit is being conducted for line crewmen and mechanics.

From the start, the 8th Air Force has been plagued with shortages of heavy equipment necessary for the maintenance of the B-36, which is one reason many of the planes stay on the ground after a minimum number of flight hours.

B-36 engines are so big a new "built up" assembly line had to be developed so they could be worked on vertically. Engines arrive at the field without any fittings except cylinders and shaft; the mount, exhaust stacks, blowers and other equipment is added by mechanics at the base. A "merry-go-round" assembly line, built at Carswell, now cuts the time for "build up" on the 18-foot engines in half.

At present, there are no "mock-ups" to aid fledgling B-36 crew members in their classroom work. During the war, such aids speeded training on the ground by showing crews how parts of the plane worked. But a "mock-up" of the B-36 would cost close to a million dollars, and that isn't in the training budget just now. Carswell's trainees will have to be content with a crashed B-

36, which will be utilized, as far as possible, as a "mockup." First they'll have to wait until the air inspectors get through their investigation of the crash.

When the 8th Air Force does get all the B-36s it hopes to have, there'll be still another headache. The field, built for B-25s, later was a B-24 transition base and after the war housed B-29s. Even without a full complement of planes for its two B-36 groups, it's tough to find room to park the new bomber on Carswell's ramps.

BIG PROP of the B-36 dwarfs members of the ground crew as they work on an engine at Carswell Air Force Base.

BIG BOMBER takes a lot of crew—and a lot of training. Here the crew of one B-36 lines up under the wing with each man's equipment spread out for the pilot to check.

Colored Oleo Back In Ohio After 62 Years

Voters Pleased Over Yellow Stuff; Give Big Majority

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9—(AP)—Colored oleo is back in Ohio after 62 years as an outcast.

The voters in yesterday's election lifted a ban imposed by a legislature dominated by rural butter interests more than six decades ago.

It took that long to get the matter on the ballot, after repeated rebuffs in the General Assembly.

Margin Emphatic

The margarine margin was emphatic. With 87 per cent of the state's polling places counted, the edge was 374,245, and some populous city precincts still were to be listed.

The vote totals from 8513 of 9721 polling places: For 1,096,171; against 786,841.

Even before the final tabulations were made, manufacturers of margarine began planning to release the yellow version on the Ohio market.

N. B. Betzold, general sales manager of Durkee Foods, a big producer of margarine, said yellow oleo will go on sale in Ohio as soon as the law goes into effect.

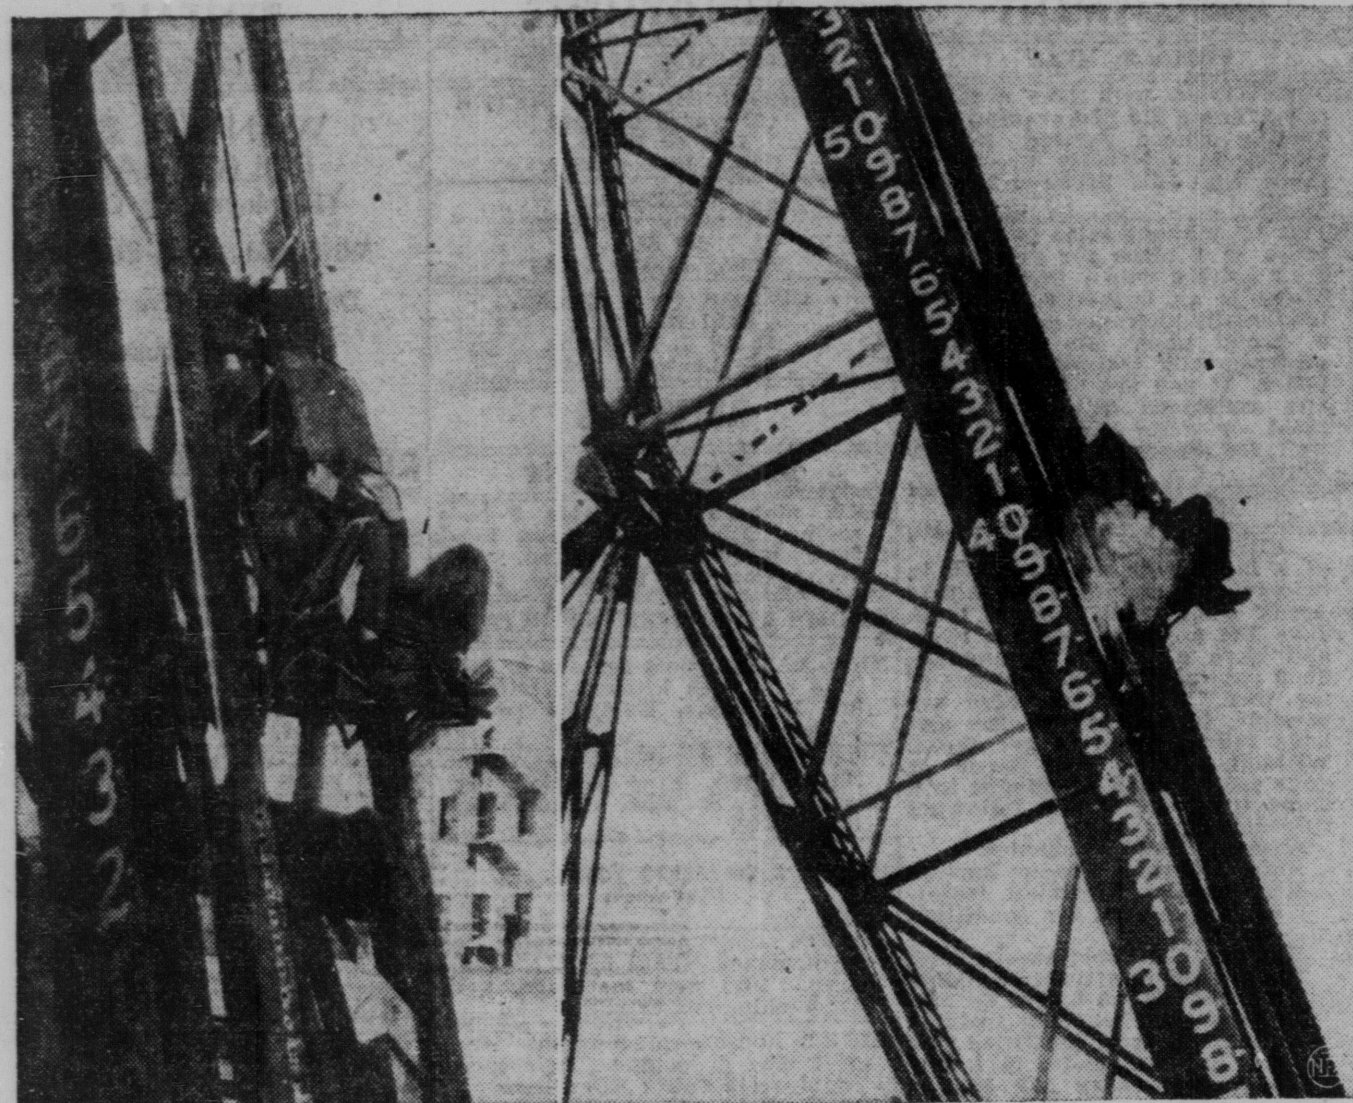

But, colored oleo, once more legal in Ohio, still will not be on parity with butter. Years ago, congress added to the protection for the butter industry by imposing a tax of 10 cents a pound on colored margarine. It also required retailers to obtain a federal license to sell it.

Must Get Licenses

Betzold said wholesalers and retailers will apply immediately for federal licenses.

The license amounts to eight-tenths of a cent a pound. Colored oleo in its new role still will carry this equalizing tax.

Oleo manufacturers are hopeful

The high speed of the seat started it smoking at 40 feet, right, but the sergeant was unhurt. The skyrocket trainer will be used to teach pilots what to expect when they spring out of a crippled jet and parachute to earth.

WINONA

The home of Mrs. Alfred Gamble on the Newgarden-New Alexander rd. was attractively decorated with blue and pink tones Nov. 2 when Mrs. Gamble, assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Gamble, entertained a group of 25 friends and relatives, honoring a sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Clewell, with a surprise stork shower.

The evening was spent with pencil games.

The honoree received gifts, presented in a basket with pink and blue decorations.

The same colors were featured in the lunch served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Homer Gamble, Sr., Mrs. Carl Gamble and Mrs. Robert Ward.

The members of the Winona Farm council recently spent an enjoyable evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rudebeck.

President John Stewart presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Rudebeck led the devotions. Discussion Leader Miss Josephine Dunn conducted a lively discussion on the office ballot and other voting issues. Moving pictures of travel and local scenes were shown by Mrs. Howard Bailey, who also took them.

Mrs. Rudebeck served lunch with Halloween appointments.

The group plans to meet Dec. 2 with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brantingham for a coverdish supper.

Hold Joint Meeting

Members of the local Friends church joined with the Salem church members in a Harvest Home program at the Salem Friends church Friday evening.

Over 600 quarts of fruit and vegetable besides other staple foods were donated for the Friends Rescue Home and the Cleveland Bible college.

Mrs. Leslie Whinery was a Thursday overnight guest of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, Jr., of Youngstown.

Miss Martha Hendershott, student at the Cleveland Bible college spent the weekend at home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hendershott of Canton were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. Hendershott's mother, Mrs. Sue Hendershott.

Visits Parents

Paul Ward, who is employed as a mail clerk in the railroad mail terminal in Cleveland, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, west of town.

Mrs. Albert Gamble, who is ill at her home here, is slightly improved.

Enjoy Party

The Timothean's class and its teacher, Mrs. Willis Miller, enjoyed a Halloween party at the log cabin built by them on the Menning farm this summer.

The guests appeared in costume and games were an enjoyable feature of the evening.

The group then proceeded to the Paul Brantingham home where lunch was served.

Reverends Martin and Lydia Brantingham accompanied by Mrs. Rev. and Mrs. Claude Roane of Alliance spent the weekend in Michigan.

Rev. Roane, superintendent of the Friends yearly meeting conducted the sessions of the quarterly meeting at Adrian, Mich.

Rev. Lydia Brantingham ministered to the meeting of ministers and overseers there Saturday.

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the village clerk, Washingtonville, Ohio, until 7 o'clock p. m., E.S.T., of the 7th day of December, 1949, at which time and place said bids will be opened and publicly read and award made, for the purchase of bonds of said village of Washingtonville, in the aggregate amount of $36,575. Said bonds will be dated the first day of November, 1949, will be in the denomination of $1000 each, except one bond of $575, will draw interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of May and the first day of November of each year, beginning May 1, 1950, but anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or multiples thereof. Said bonds will mature annually on November first at the rate of $1575 in 1951, $1000 from 1952 to 1954, inclusive, and $2000 from 1955 to 1970, inclusive, and are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion and also the village portion of the cost of improving certain streets by constructing water lines therein, are payable at the office of the legal depository, presently The Citizens Savings Bank, Leetonia, Ohio, and are supported by a limited general tax.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check payable to the Clerk-Treasurer in the sum of $400, upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages, in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Village of Washingtonville Water Line Bonds".

The proceedings looking to the issuance of these bonds have been taken under the supervision of Messrs. Squire, Sanders, Dempsey, bond attorneys of Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion, together with the printed bonds, will be furnished at the expense of the village.

Lion Farm Sold After 25 Years Of Exciting Service

By JACK QUIGG
EL MONTE, Calif., Nov. 10—(AP)—"It takes youth and ability to handle lions..." Charles Gay spoke the words quietly, sadly as he eyed the sign that proclaimed his life's work ended.

The sign outside the internationally famed Gay's lion farm read:

"Closed, until further notice." But there will be no further notice. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay have announced that their showplace, shuttered "for the duration" in 1942, will be put up for sale instead of reopened.

No Longer Young
The couple is no longer young. And Gay wears vivid scars, souvenirs left by tearing claws on the four occasions he was mauled, to remind him that ability is paramount in handling lions.

They are leaving their farm, but the Gays can look back on a quarter century of thrills and dangers, the substance of memories to last them their lifetimes.

The pair began their extraordinary venture July 1, 1925, when they opened their jungle compound with 57 lions. When they closed the door in 1942, 217 big cats stalked the concrete pens.

In that period hundreds of thousands of visitors toured the 330 by 680 feet wooded farm. Lions clubs held countless banquets, feasting on broiled and fried lion meat. Several rare white cubs were born. Gay and his wife became two of the most skillful lion trainers in the world.

Two trainers lost their lives on occasions when the Gays were away. Once, while putting 18 lions through an act, a trainer stumbled backward, fell, was pounced upon and killed. Again five lions escaped and dispatched a trainer trying to restrain them.

The best known act, the one that held spectators enthralled, was that in which Mrs. Gay lay on a blanket while Numa, her biggest beast, reclined across her body. Gay kept the cat's attention focused on his whip.

Gay was training animals in a London circus when he met his wife to be, a newspaper woman. Soon after their marriage he informed her that she had been assigned to do an act with the circus leopards.

"But can I do it?" she asked, alarmed.

"Certainly, I wouldn't have signed if I hadn't known you could do the job."

Mrs. Gay became a star with the leopard act.

At a lion's club breakfast in 1926, Numa pulled a stunt that witnesses have never forgotten. The long banquet table was set up inside the arena. Gay led Numa to the table. The lion jump atop it and walked its length between the guests, who hustled their plates out of his way.

As Numa neared the end, the table began to sag and rock under his weight. He finished the walk with the table supported by the anxious grasps of the diners. It did not collapse. No one was hurt.

The beasts, too, had troubles. One lion choked to death on a chunk of meat. Another died of appendicitis. A third was killed in a fight.

In the summers 3,000 people a week crowded the farm. The guest book sports the signatures of Sir Harry Lauder, Albert Einstein, Count Von Luckner, Marie Dressler, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and many movie actors.

The farm was primarily a breeding place. Its vigorous young cubs were shipped to the zoos and circuses of the world.

'Unauthorized' Biography Gives New Look At UMW's John L. Lewis

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The granite-faced man arose and solemnly looked about him. "The name," he announced, "is John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America."

The business and labor leaders assembled for the late President Roosevelt's first wartime economic parley laughed heartily. The glowering Lewis face set off by bushy brows was better known than any in the room, better known than most faces in the nation.

The man who stood before that group is the most controversial figure in U. S. labor history. For 30 years he has stamped his powerful imprint on events, often violently disrupting the economy through his push-button control of its basic energy source: coal. This fall he is making his mark once more, with another crippling strike in the mines.

In his 30 years as mine leader, Lewis has forged his miners' into the best disciplined and strongest labor force ever seen. Without mentioning "strike," he can take them out of the pits in a flash. A quiet signal, a secret word, or even silence will do it.

Lewis has hiked their hourly wages from dismal depths to a plane above the national average for workers. He has won them pensions and other benefits. Just since 1940 their take-home pay has tripled.

He has also carved out the CIO, a whole new labor federation, leading the way in organizing vast empires of unorganized workers in steel, autos, rubber, glass and other industries.

In gaining these ends, the 69-year-old mine chieftain has defied three presidents. He has dared to strike the mines four times in a critical war year (1943) and 14 times altogether from 1943 through 1949. He has stirred the wrath of plain citizens, giant corporations, rival labor leaders, Congress, and soldiers in battle (who said: "Damn your coal black soul").

Lewis has been blistered as power-mad, as a dictator, a "disciple of discontent," even a traitor. Youngsters picketing his home in wartime called him "Hitler's helper."

He has tossed in $500,000 to help re-elect a President (Roosevelt in 1936) and then stormed to no avail against a third term for the same man.

He has engineered bitter feuds both with Mr. Roosevelt and later with Philip Murray, the man Lewis picked to fill his shoes as CIO president in 1940. He has hopped from AFL to CIO to independence, back to AFL and then once more to independence in pursuit of his ever changing tactical aims.

To Saul Alinsky, who calls his new book on John L. an "unauthorized biography," Lewis is a one-man rebellion shaking a defiant fist at authority in the highest places. To a Washington newsman who knows him well, he is a man so consumed by lust for power that it blinds him to reality, "jeopardizes and frequently destroys his fondest hopes."

Friends and foes alike concede him to be a master tactician and superb showman. Mr. Roosevelt is said to have been enraged at Lewis' success in outmaneuvering him.

One wartime story had it that a businessman weary of delays in negotiating a government deal said: "If I don't get results soon I'm going right over Roosevelt's head to John L. Lewis."

Oddly enough, it was men of smaller stature who dealt Lewis defeat. President Truman combined with mild but resolute Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough in slapping heavy fines on Lewis wife, Myrta, to whom he was devoted since their early marriage in his native Lucas, Iowa, died in 1942.

1946: For postwar miners, he promised a pension

A cigar, lit or unlit, is nearly constant equipment but Lewis drinks sparingly. Though he had a heart attack in 1941, he seems to know how to relax through crisis after crisis. On some trips, especially to Springfield, Ill., to see his aged, ailing mother, he likes to drive his own car.

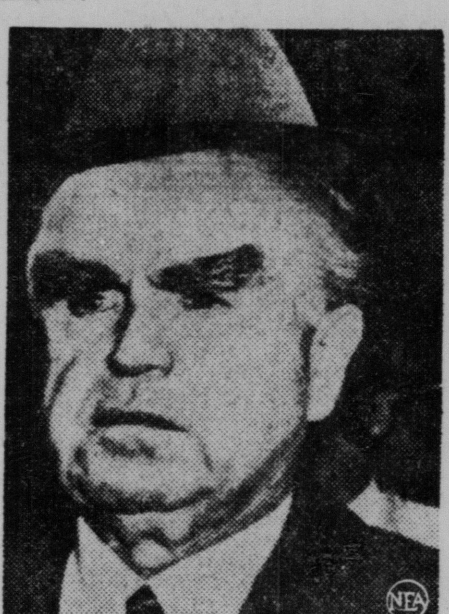

At his ancient home in Alexandria, Va., his daughter Kathryn lives with him. Once she was active in union affairs, but no longer. His son, John L., Jr., is a doctor in Baltimore. Lewis' close friends are few.

He spends his time at home reading the classics, military history and occasionally a detective yarn. Books are his deepest pleasure.

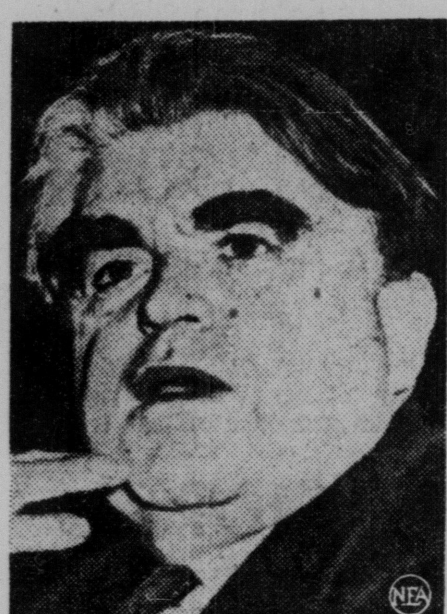

The almost genial private Lewis seems to glory in the awe and anguish inspired by his public thunderbolts. In his "throne room" in the basement of UMW headquarters in Washington, the walls are thick with pictures and cartoons of Lewis, culled from the press through the turbulent years.

These and other exhibits roughly sketch his rise from a mine worker to union president in 1920, through bloody days when the union was made strong, into the tense '30s when the CIO was born and Lewis generated the big motor strikes, and finally into the present.

Lewis shows no signs of yielding his mantle, though he will be 70 next February. On the contrary, rumors say he may have big new plans. But no one really knows, and predicting John L. Lewis is the riskiest game imaginable.

1948: For defying the court, he got thoroughly slapped.

1943: For the coal strike, he was called "Hitler's helper."

and his union for defying court orders.

At his roaring best, Lewis flays his opponents with searing epithets. Of William Green, AFL head, he said: "I have done a lot of exploring in Bill's mind and I give you my word there is nothing there." Of Secretary of Interior Krug: "A great modern Hercules, with a No. 12 shoe and No. 5 hat." Of Cyrus Ching, federal mediator: "... a remarkable man, who sees through eyes of United States Rubber." (Ching was once a U. S. Rubber Co. executive.)

Lewis lards his speech with phrases from the Bible and Shakespeare. His public remarks usually are flowery and ponderous, often edged with sarcasm and delivered in thundering tones. But he can be brutally blunt, as when he quit the AFL in 1947 with a four-word message to Green.

All this is the front the public sees. According to Alinsky, a sympathetic biographer, it is a carefully contrived facade. In private, Lewis is said to be warm, amiable, filled with humor and good stories. Once he was a fairly regular Washington party-goer, but he shrinks from that now. His life has been quiet since his 1937: For that year's steel strike, he blamed FDR.

Lady Astor Declares War On Hollywood's Glamor Girls

LONDON, Nov. 9—(AP)—American-born Lady Astor declared war today on the "naked glamor girls of Hollywood."

She asked her moneyed friends for a million dollars to help combat the influence of the movies in "this striptease age." She wants to increase the influence of nice educated women on world thinking.

If she gets the money it will go into a London settlement for foreign university women studying in Britain.

"The world is being swept off its feet by Hollywood," said the former Nancy Langhorne of the Alhambra county, Virginia, Langhorne.

"We hear nothing but tales of these wretched glamor girls. Our young people are not naturally sexy, but what can we expect when they are exposed to films of this kind?"

"My plan is for educated women from every country to understand each other and exchange their varying points of view. I want to make London a world center for advanced study for university women."

London, she said, is just the right spot because "London is a place to work—not to live in."

Lady Astor tossed off her pithy comments at a gathering of guests and prospective contributors in her gold-draped Mayfair drawing room. Still vivacious at 69, she wore a blue hat with a bobbing black ostrich feather and chewed gum as she outlined her plan.

She wants to raise 400,000 pounds ($1,120,000) to enlarge Crosby Hall, a settlement for foreign university women in London's Chelsea district. The sum also would endow enough fellowships so that twice as many girls could study there. She is chairman of Crosby International Hall of Residence, official name of the settlement. Since 1946 some 3,000 women from 45 countries have stayed there while studying. More than 1,000 of them were from the United States.

War Gas Warning Is Given To Britons

LONDON, Nov. 9—(AP)—Britons got a chilling warning today that failure to use gas in LOANED TO POLAND—A Warsaw announcement said Soviet Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky, "Hero of Stalin," has been appointed defense minister of Poland by request of Polish President Boleslaw Bierut, who was trained in Moscow. Rokossovsky replaces Marshal Michael Zymierski, who was believed to be out of favor with Poland's Communist regime. The ranking Russian military leader of World War II, Rokossovsky was born on Polish soil about 50 years ago.

World War II may have increased the possibility it would be a weapon in another war.

The home office said that a potential enemy, gambling on finding the British off-guard, might unleash clouds of deadly vapors over English cities.

The details were listed in a new chemical warfare training manual for use by Britain's permanent Civil Defense Corps.

Among other things, the booklet told of a new "nerve gas" in liquid form which could cause death after convulsions. This gas makes gas-masks useless, penetrating the clothing and skin. It is practically odorless, and the first indication a victim has that he is stricken comes with fading vision, running nose and constriction of the chest.

Besides raising this specter, the home office said that the old World War I blister and choking gases may again be called into use. It added that there also might be prussic acid bombs and arsenic-hydrogen gas which destroys the red blood cells.
